

Judge introduction

CATHARINA HASSELGREN

Judge at SAIGIT's show 19th of July in Uppsala

I am breeding West Highland White Terrier under the kennel prefix Tweed together with my mom Birgitta Hasselgren. I have been active and engaged in dogs and dog show throughout my life.

I started my breeding career as 16-years-old with Scottish terrier and then over the years, it has become more and more Westie.

But we have always had Scots too.

I have worked throughout my adult life for the breed club Westie Alliance and its local departments, and since the beginning of 2000 also in the East Swedish Terrier Club where I am still active.

2006 I decided to try to start an education to exhibition judge, and in tough competition I became one of those that was trained in 2007.

Today I am a group judge for Group 3, which means I judge all terriers. During my years as a judge, I have had the opportunity to judge around Europe, and also have judged certificate in England which is a fantastic opportunity to see and examine lots of nice terriers.
